PREFACE.

THIS printed record of the marriages completes the publication of the births, deaths, and marriages in Woburn from the settlement of the town to Dec. 31, 1890. There are 1,857 marriages recorded in the eighteen years covered by this volume, and the number of persons who were married during that period is 3,714.

With next year's city report, I hope to publish the marriage intentions from the earliest date (1699) down to and including the year 1890, and with it the newspaper notices of all marriages which are not to be found on the records of the city clerk. In compiling the marriage intentions, I shall omit the name of every person whose marriage record has been already published, unless there appears something besides the usual difference of date in the two records. The adoption of this method will greatly lessen the expense of publication, and yet render the book fully as valuable for consultation.

The abbreviations 2d, 3d, 5th, etc., in the text signify the number of times married.

As an appendix to this book, I have added a copy of what is known as the Proprietors' Book of Record. It is an account of the meetings and doings of the proprietors of the common and undivided lands in Woburn and Wilmington from 1739 to 1765. It contains, among other things, the grants of land made to different proprietors in severalty, and its preservation, therefore, is of importance to the property owners of our city. The original, which I found some years ago in an exposed place, consists of a number of loose sheets, covered with what was once "a blue flowered paper." Considering its dilapidated condition, its preservation for so long a time is remarkable.

Near 38 acres, being the homestead, bounded west on land of Robert Douglass [John Johnson's pasture, on the north side of Locust Street], north on Jacob Wright [land east of present Jesse Cutler's estate] in part, and in part on town road [Bedford Street, then sometimes called Concord Road], east and south on other town roads [Burlington and Locust Streets]. (2.) 6 acres, called the Long Field [see note to Fowle]. (3.) 10¼ acres near Pine Hill, bounded east on Carter, south on Jonathan Boutell, in part, and in part on Joshua Reed; west, on Lieut. *According to the Probate Records, George Bruce died July 22, 1692, leaving a widow, Elizabeth, and children, William, John, Mary (afterwards wife of John Brooks), and Elizabeth, all of age, and Joseph, Samuel, Margery, and Lydia, minors. The widow and those children who were of age signed an agreement Dec. 8, 1692, dividing the estate of George Bruce, deceased, by which William was to have "that place which was appointed by his father in his lifetime, it lying near Samuel Snow's house," and John Bruce was to have the homestead with 29 acres. John Bruce died Sept. 7, 1742, possessed of a homestead of 36 acres with an old dwelling-house on it. This homestead was situated on the easterly side of Burlington Street, in Cummingsville, and to the north of the present John Johnson estate now occupied by Mr. Soles. The northerly portion of the latter property, including the present barn and pond, was conveyed, in 1767, by John Bruce to Isaac Brooks, who in 1797, conveyed it to Reuben Johnson. In the deed to Brooks it was bounded north on Isabel Bruce's Thirds. In 1763, Isabel Bruce, widow, John, Thomas, George, James, and Joseph Bruce convey 12 acres to Joseph Winn, "being parcel of the homestead late of John Bruce, deceased," bounded, beginning at the town road [Burlington Street] thence easterly by the back side of the Mansion House, late of said Bruce, deceased, and by the widow Isabel Bruce's Thirds, to a stake at the northeast corner of said Thirds; thence south to a stake at Mary Fowle's land [present John Johnson estate]; thence east partly by said Mary's land and partly by land of Nathaniel Kendall [on Bedford Street and now owned by James Given]; thence north by said Kendall's land to land of Joseph Winn; thence west by said Winn's land, thence north, and thence west by land of Thomas Bruce to the road; thence by said road to the beginning. See notes under Fowle and Johnson.

* See note to KENDALL. The will of Mary Fowle, a spinster, dated Dec. 15, 1771, and probated in 1772, who appears to have owned the present John Johnson estate, corner of Burlington and Bedford Streets, mentions a brother Jacob, sisters Abigail, Dorothy, Judith, and Ruth Wright, also her sister's children Timothy and Elizabeth Wright, and her brother's daughter Mary. Abigail Johnson is also mentioned. Her will directs her executor to sell land to pay debts and legacies. In 1772, Dorothy and Abigail Fowle convey to Reuel Baldwin six acres called the "Long Field," bounded south and west on town roads, north on Jonathan Kendall, Thomas Bruce, and Joseph Winn, and east on Jonathan Wyman, deceased [formerly the Kendall lot]. Reuel Baldwin's widow, Keziah, married Reuben Johnson and thus the property came into possession of the present Johnson family. See notes under BALDWIN, BRUCE, and JOHNSON.

*The same Day [Friday last, June 11] we had here an account of a sad Accident which happened at Woburn that Day, viz.: Mr. James Clough, with his Apprentice, John Potter, of this Town, Founder, and one Pierce, of Woburn, being in pursuit of a Copper Mine, and in order to come at it they were obl g'd to break to pieces a large Rock, and charg'd it with Powder sufficient, as they were ramming the broken pieces of Stone upon the Powder, struck Fire, which flew in at a crack that was in the Cane which held the Fuze, and instantly communicated itself to the Powder that was in the bottom of the hole, and blew them up: Mr. Clough lost his right hand then, and had his Arm so broke to pieces, and his left hand burnt to that degree that he had his right Arm and left Hand cut off the next Day; he was also much wounded in his Stomach, and his Life is in great danger. His Apprentice, John Potter, had his right Arm so burnt that it was tho't necessary, and accordingly was cut off. Mr. Pierce was much wounded in his Face, was blind, and his Life in danger.—The Boston Weekly News-Letter, June 17, 1731.

† Dr. Samuel A. Green, of Boston, the well-known antiquary, discovered the following item at Worcester, and Edmund M. Barton, Librarian of the American Antiquarian Society, communicated it.—C.

From The Boston Weekly News-Letter, Thursday, March 31, 1743:—

"Ran away from his Master Gershom Flegg of Woburn, on the 21st Instant at Night: a Negro-Man Servant, indented for seven Years, named Pompey York, about thirty-eight Years of Age, of middling Stature, speaks good English, can read and write. He had on, or with him when he went away, a grey homespun Coat turn'd and piec'd, flat metal buttons; a blew Jacket, with metal Buttons; an old Camblet, one without Sleeves, also an old blew Shag loose Coat, and a brown Holland one; two good cotton and linnen Shirts, a pair of Leather Breeches with metal Buttons, grey Yarn Stockings, thick strong Shoes, two Castor Hats, one old, the other almost new, sundry Wigs, and a striped Cap. He has also with him Spoon Moulds, and other Tinkers' Tools. He walks stooping and waddles as he goes. On his right Hand there are several Specks like Warts. He sometimes undertakes to Exhort, and sometimes to tell Fortunes.

"N. B. He had a Manumission of Freedom from Seth Ross and William Crosby of Billerica before he was indented as aforesaid. Whosoever shall take up the said Servant and bring him to his Master, or secure him in Boston, Cambridge, or Charlestown Gaol, shall have Eight Pounds old Tenor Reward, and all necessary Charges paid.

"All Masters of Vessels and others are caution'd not to harbour, conceal or carry off the said Servant, as they would avoid the Penalty of the Law. Dated March 25, 1742, 3."

NOTE.—Many of the early members of the FLAGG family in Woburn preferred to write the name FLEGG, which accounts for the peculiar spelling of the above advertisement. Gershom Flagg, senior, was a son of the first Gershom Flagg, of Woburn, who was killed in battle with the Indians in the year 1690. The second Gershom Flagg inherited his father's estate. Both occupied the same known in later times as the "Fox Place." This was a mansion house which once stood on a spot immediately behind the present Unitarian Church. A history of the estate appeared in the pamphlet, "Old Houses and Homes." Gershom Flagg, the second, in 1736, deeded one half of the estate to a third Gershom Flagg, his son, who died in 1743. The second Gershom Flagg died in 1755.

Of the runaway servant, and apparent thief, no further information appears.

Dr. Green states that the few copies of The News-Letter to be found at Worcester are numbers of the paper which are missing from the sets in Boston.—W. R. CUTTER.
